Instructions:  Translate into Latin and observe standard Latin word order.   Graded Assignment.  Work Independently but you may use your notes, Wheelock, etc.  Email me with questions.   Due Thursday, November 29th.  See attached vocabulary.    TYPE your final version.

1) The shapely peacock, the proud bird of the queen of the gods, kept bitting with sharp teeth the beautiful flowers of our king, because for shapely peacocks there is a great love of beautiful flowers.
There is always a large flock of shapely peacocks in the garden of Juno, the queen of the gods.   They are able to sit in the tall trees under the bright sun.

2) Our best soldiers were running from the sea across the big bridge with great speed into the battle and were giving many wounds to both our enemies and to the hostile peacocks, because Mars, the hard/harsh god of war, was giving great help to our best soldiers with great eagerness.

3) Jupiter was sitting with (his) beautiful wife, Juno by name, on three shapely clouds and he kept throwing swirling thunder bolts from the three shapely clouds at/toward wicked human beings and the shapely peacocks, because he was the all-powerful (3rd decl. adj.) king of all gods   Jupiter's divine authority is the greatest.

Peacock
Pavo cristatus

males have the long display feathers, called a train rounded markings that look like eyes shiny (iridescent blue-green feathers males have bright blue head, neck and chest clawed feet

pons, pontis (m) bridge celeritas, celeritatis (f) proelium, -ii (n) battle do, dare, dedi, datus
vulnus, vulneris (n)
inimicus, a, um - hostile
hostis, hostis (m) enemy Mars, Martis (m)
durus, a, um - hard, harsh bellum, belli (n)
auxilium, -ii (n) help
magnus, a, um
studium, studii (n)

Sentence Three

quod (subordinating conj.) = because

Iuppiter, Iovis (m) Jupiter sedeo, sedere, sedi, sessum - to sit pulcher, pulchra, pulchrum uxor, uxoris (f) wife
Iuno, Iunonis (f)
nomen, nominis (n)
nubes, nubis (f) cloud tres, tria - three formosus, a, um - shapely iacio, iacere, ieci, iactus - to throw fulmen, fulminis (n) lightening bolt ad + _____ case?
scelestus, a, um - wicked
homo, hominis (m)
pavo, pavonis (m) omnipotens, omnipotentis (3rd decl.) -all-powerful
rex, regis (m)
cunctus, a, um - all numen, numinis (n) divine authority maximus, a, um - greatest

Sentence One

quod (subordinating conj.) = because

Iuno, Iunonis (f)

formosus, a, um
pavo, pavonis (m/f)
regina, reginae (f)
mordeo, mordere, momordi, morsus avis, avis (m/f) bird dens, dentis (m) tooth
flos, floris (m)
rex, regis (m)
amor, amoris (m) love
magnus, a, um
deus, dei (m)
grex, gregis (m) flock
hortus, horti (m) garden
sol, solis (m) sun
clarus, a, um - bright
arbor, arboris (f)
possum, posse, potui - are able

Sentence Two

quod (subordinating conj.) = because

optimus, a, um - best noster, nostra, nostrum miles, militis (m)
curro, currere, cucurri, cursus pontus, ponti (m) sea